

The power behind relying on Rehlko engines

Why Greg Wilson of Canopy Landscapes trusts Rehlko

Q Why do you like Rehlko engines?

We like Rehlko engines because they are reliable, powerful and easy to work with. They start up every time, run smoothly and don't give us the finicky issues we've seen in other brands. The design is straightforward and user-friendly, which makes them stand out in everyday use.

What is the best quality in a Rehlko engine and how has that helped your business?

The best quality is the simplicity and reliability of the design. Features like easy filter access, a drainplug hose that keeps oil changes clean, and minimal wiring mean less downtime and less time spent on repairs. For our business, that translates into more hours mowing and fewer interruptions, which directly improves efficiency and customer satisfaction.

Can you go into detail on how the Rehlko engine felt as far as power in a lawnmower?

The engine delivers excellent power, with smooth performance and strong torque that really shows up in tough grass or when the mower is under load. We never feel like the mower is struggling, even in demanding conditions. That consistent power makes the job easier and faster, while giving us confidence that the engine can handle anything we throw at it.

Can you describe the maintenance process for a Rehlko engine?

Maintenance is simple and convenient. The filters are positioned in accessible locations, the carburetor is easy to reach for adjustments and the roomy layout around the starter and valve covers makes service straightforward. The drain plug hose is a small detail, but it makes oil changes far less messy compared to other mowers. Altogether, these design choices make it much easier to keep the engine in top condition.

Anything else you want to add about Rehlko engines?

We really appreciate that the engine doesn't include features like auto PTO throttle-down, which can sometimes be finicky on other systems. The choke works well, and overall, the engine feels thoughtfully engineered with the operator in mind. It's a combination of power, reliability and simplicity that makes Rehlko engines some of the best we've worked with.

"We like Rehlko engines because they are reliable, powerful and easy to work with."

— Greg Wilson,
Canopy Landscapes

rehlko

Kohler Engines is now Rehlko

equip
EXPOSITION

Booth 7176
October 21-24, 2025
Louisville, KY

Command PRO® 888 Power Unleashed, Turf Tamed.

It's here in the wild, where unrivaled torque meets unmatched productivity. A ferocious strength that maintains control on any terrain. Dominate the game, with extended maintenance intervals and rock-solid reliability, day after day.

Command PRO® 888.
Experience this powerful new beast,
unleashed to conquer the field.

